

Anderson School of Management New Student Checklist (NSO students)

Before your scheduled orientation make sure to complete the following steps. This will ensure you have a smooth start.

1

Get your UNM Net ID and password. These will be the credentials you will use to access UNM systems like your UNM e-mail, MyUNM, LoboAchieve and more. If you still need to create your Net ID you can go here.

2

Make sure UNM Admissions has all of your updated records such as test scores (ACT/SAT/IB/AP), transcripts or dual course information. If not, you can e-mail them to apply@unm.edu. Having the most current information will ensure you can register for the right classes. If you don't have test scores click here to go to the Lobo course placement tool.

3

Take a look at the different concentrations available to you at Anderson. Not all of our students are the same. We have concentrations such as management information systems, finance, accounting, human resources and others! Click here to learn more.

4

Start planning for the classes you want to take. A good place to start is Phase 1 (click here) of your plan of study at Anderson. These are classes you will need to take (many pre-requisites) before taking your upper level management courses in your chosen concentration. You can also check out how to register for classes in the system here. Remember you are not able to register for classes until you meet with your Advisor at NSO.

During your meeting with your advisor you can ask questions and learn more about the courses you need to take. Please reach out to us if you have any questions before New Student Orientation. You can email us at:
